Care of the Older Person

This course is designed for health care professionals with a background or interest in the topical issue of care of the elderly in Ireland. The course provides an overview of the law on such issues as consent, negligence, restraint and DNR's as they apply to elderly people in residential care settings.

Fitness to Practice for Nurses

The intensive one-day course for nurse managers and senior nurses equips those attending with the necessary knowledge, skills and procedures to deal with Fitness to Practice inquiries and hearings. It will ensure they nurses can competently and confidently carry out the tasks related to a fitness to practice inquiry in accordance with best practice principles. Competency based with specific aims and objectives, this course is innovative and experiential with a strong emphasis on a “learning by doing” approach.

We also provide in-house training courses. For further information please contact
